Next 30 Days for November has arrived!

Announcements Procrow Nov 5, 2019

X019 Teaser

We are going to X019! Expect an official blog with dates and times coming Thursday. To give you a teaser, we have a booth on the X019 floor for you to come by and visit, we'll be walking the line in FanFest, and on Friday and Saturday we have planned XO hangouts at nearby establishments. There's your appetizer, the full entree is on its way!

Artyom is the Xbox Ambassador of the Month

Artyom is the Xbox Ambassador of the Month for November! If you missed it, here's his article. He's also now a Discord mod for the official ambassador Discord channel, so make sure to say "Go Artyom!" next time you are in there.

Thanksgiving is almost here!

Thanksgiving is this month! Wooh! We CMs are going to be a bit spotty in interactions with you during the holiday. It's because we'll be a feeding on da foods and being thankful for all of you :). So as you try to survive without AshesX, Taxel, and ProCrow, we recommend you continuing the spookings from October! Just because October is over, doesn't mean the zombies have slowed their ambling charge….be thankful you are ALIVE for this Thanksgiving! Muhahahaha! Also, all of the games mentioned below are on Game Pass. If you have it, you got these ghoulies to play.

My (Procrow's) favorite spooky feels this year was from Hellblade, Senua's Sacrifice. The representation of psychosis really got under my skin and I had to put the game down multiple times. I'm still making my way through it. https://www.microsoft.com/en-us/p/hellblade-senuas-sacrifice/c4z7qm8fsxm2

AshesX favorite spooky this year was from Hello Neighbor. In her words "That man is scary," we agree AshesX, we agree. You can see her playing the game here. Also, here is the game itself https://www.microsoft.com/en-us/p/hello-neighbor/c0g1l18dt97k.

Taxel’s favorite spooky feel isn’t a traditional spooky game. “What Remains of Edith Finch” got him. It “got my heart going a few times,” was his official quote on the matter. I hear it also goes for the heart strings, so be ready to have lots of feelings. Here is Taxel streaming the game. If you are enjoying the stream, here is the link to the game page https://www.microsoft.com/en-us/p/what-remains-of-edith-finch/bslglg8p9t01

No Play Date for November

Being that we have Thanksgiving and X019 this month, there will be no playdate scheduled. We’ll start our playdates back up in December before the Christmas holidays. If you are itching for more Ambassadors to play with, be sure to check the LFG channel in the Discord. This is the “looking for group” channel, and a great place to organize games with Ambassadors. There is also the LFG feature on Xbox, where you can expand your search outside of the Ambassadors. So make some friends and enjoy your turkey time 😊.